

Florida Association of Public Insurance Adjusters

FAPIA Elevator Speech:

The Florida Association of Public Insurance Adjusters (FAPIA), 500 members strong, is committed to ensuring homeowners who suffer an insured loss receive full and fair compensation from their insurance carriers. Founded to protect residential and business policyholders in the wake of devastating Hurricane Andrew in 1993, FAPIA is an advocate for the consumer and for its members. We continue to grow and enhance the industry, improving laws and regulations that govern public adjusters and their services to policyholders.

Key Messages:

- FAPIA is committed to and supports fair legislation and policies that protect consumers while promoting integrity and accountability within the industry.
- Public insurance adjusters serve the consumer, advocating for the policyholder's position in the claim and helping them navigate the complicated claims process.
- A FAPIA adjuster belongs to the State Association of Public Insurance Adjusters; adheres to a strict Code of Ethics; and is able to take advantage of the best quality continuing education in the country – ensuring we can best serve policyholders in need.
